Monthly Harvard-Harris Poll: February 2020

This survey was conducted online within the United States from February 26-28, 2020 among 2,592 registered voters by The Harris Poll.

The results reflect a nationally representative sample. Results were weighted for age within gender, region, race/ethnicity, marital status, household size, income, employment, political party, political ideology, and education where necessary to align them with their actual proportions in the population. Propensity score weighting was also used to adjust for respondents' propensity to be online.

INT022003 President Trump recently fired the acting Director of National Intelligence after one of his top aides testified before Congress that the Russian government has begun efforts to interfere in the 2020 election and that it preferred President Trump's re-election. No specific evidence has been cited publicly as part of this assessment. Do you agree or disagree with the decision to fire the acting director of national intelligence over this briefing?
